Nitin Gadkari on six-day visit to Mysuru, Kodagu

Mysuru / Madikeri, June 9 (RK,RKB&BCT)- Union Minister for Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari and his family are on a tour of Mysuru and Kodagu. After winding up his engagements in Mysuru, the Union Minister will arrive at Pollibetta today afternoon and stay in Kodagu till June 13.

Their private chartered plane landed at Mysore Airport yesterday and Gadkari was received by Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, former Minister C.H. Vijayashankar, MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev, Airport Director R. Manjunath and other officers.

Gadkari is accompanied by his wife Kanchan Gadkari and a few family members. Sources said that his Kodagu visit is strictly private. Last night, the family stayed at Radisson Blu Plaza Hotel in city.

Today noon, the Union Minister reached Suttur Mutt along with Pratap Simha and took the blessings of Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji. Though the Minister was scheduled to reach Suttur Mutt at 10 am, it was delayed by two hours as his family had been to the Mysuru Zoo.

Nitin Gadkari had a closed-door meeting with the Swamiji and he refused to speak to reporters and just mentioned that it is his private visit and he should not be quoted on any issues. However, after coming outside, he was heard saying to the Swamiji that the Centre will soon introduce ethanol-blended petrol.

India can save thousands of crores of rupees in foreign exchange worth of fuel imports through the use of 10 percent ethanol-blended petrol, Gadkari told the Swamiji. The initiative has led to sizable benefits for farmers, he added.

Calling Mysuru a beautiful city, the Union Minister lauded the efforts of Suttur Mutt in providing food, shelter, health and education to thousands of students.

Gadkari and his family are scheduled to reach Pollibetta today afternoon and will stay at Thaneerhulla Bungalow in Pollibetta, owned by Tata Coffee Plantations which is now being offered as a home stay.

On June 10, the Union Minister and his family will proceed to Taj Madikeri Resort & Spa and stay there till Monday. The family will return to Nagpur on Monday morning, sources added. From Madikeri, they will travel to Mysuru by road and take the chartered flight to Nagpur.

There are plans for his family to go on a wildlife safari either in Nagarahole Tiger Reserve or Bandipur Tiger Reserve. Sources said that the Union Minister's tour schedule is managed by Pratap Simha.

Yesterday in Mysuru, the family visited the Mysore Palace and went around the iconic structure along with MP Pratap Simha. They were accorded a warm welcome and felicitated by Mysore Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya.

Before visiting the Palace, the Union Minister and his wife went to Karnataka Silk Industries Corporation (KSIC) outlet in Vidyaranyapuram and saw the vast selection of silk sarees. In fact, his wife Kanchan Gadkari was bowled over seeing the designs, master craftsmanship and colours. The Minister helped her in selecting some sarees.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, former Minister C.H. Vijayashankar, MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajeev and Airport Director R. Manjunath received Union Minister Nitin Gadkari on his arrival in a chartered plane at Mysore Airport in Mandakalli yesterday afternoon.

Officials tight-lipped on PM's itinerary due to security threat

Modi

Mysuru, June 9 (MTY&BCT)- With Prime Minister Narendra Modi's itinerary in Mysuru on June 20 and 21 a closely guarded secret, the media is left to speculate and the official machinery is tight-lipped due to the possible breach of security in case the information is leaked out.

Sources told Star of Mysore that following reports of the tentative PM's schedule appearing in a section of media, the top Central Officers have reportedly instructed the State and District Officers not to leak out any information due to the sensitivity of the nature unless the itinerary is confirmed to be released to the media by the Prime Minister's Office and also the Special Protection Group.

Officials fear that if the information on PM Modi's visit is leaked, there might be a security breach. As such, the information has been kept confidential and no officer is ready to speak on that.

However, MP Pratap Simha told reporters yesterday that as per the tentative information, the PM will reach Mysore Palace premises on June 21 at 6.30 am and the Palace will be the only venue to perform Yoga.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Rafael Nadal's is an immortal presence at Roland-Garros. The Spaniard, after all, has a statue of himself at the site that is more than life-size, a rare tribute for a player still active. On Sunday, the 36-year-old showed why his is such a timeless existence by winning his 14th French Open crown that also gave him his 22nd Major, pulling him two clear of Roger Federer and Novak Djokovic in the all-time men's tally.

The year has been unlike any for Nadal, both in terms of the success he has had and the physical toll he has had to bear. Never before in his stellar career had he secured the opening two Slams of the year, and the 20 straight matches he won at the start of 2022 — three titles and a final — is a career-best. But he had to fight through a bout of COVID-19 that nearly derailed his Australian Open plans, a stress fracture in the ribs that did not allow him to touch a racquet for six weeks, forcing him to miss vital clay-court warm-up tournaments in Monte Carlo and Barcelona and under-cooking him for the return in Madrid, and a relapse of the foot injury. That he could still muster the tennis to overcome four top-10 players in the French capital, including Djokovic in the quarterfinal with a rousing performance, proved yet again that he remains the sport's ultimate competitor.

Iga Swiatek was every bit as authoritative in stamping her authority on the women's side, claiming her second French Open title in three years. It was the sixth straight tournament victory for the Pole, a run that has featured an awe-inspiring 35-match winning streak. If in Ash Barty women's tennis had a stable World No. 1 until Aussie abdicated her throne in March, Swiatek is proving to be a worthy successor. — In The Hindu

Unburnable book fetches 1,30,000 dollars at auction

New York: A special, fireproof copy of Margaret Atwood's 'The Handmaid's Tale' has been auctioned for 1,30,000 dollars, Sotheby's announced on Tuesday. Proceeds from the sale will now be donated to PEN America, a non-profit organisation that advocates for free expression worldwide.

In a promotional video for the auction the Canadian author even tries, unsuccessfully, to burn the book with a flamethrower. Sotheby's informed that the "one-of-one limited edition" of the classic novel was created using entirely fireproof materials and consists mainly of Cinefoil, a specially treated aluminium product.

The fireproof book was a joint project by PEN, Ms Atwood, Penguin Random House and two companies based in Toronto - the Rethink creative agency and The Gas Company Inc., which is a graphic art and bookbinding speciality studio.

Detailed masterpieces inside tiny bottles

Beijing: Xiang Duan is a multi-talented artist who dabbles in painting, sculpting and engraving, among other things. Her tiny bottle painting technique, however, is perhaps her most impressive skill.

While most of us can barely draw or paint a straight line, some artists can create stunning masterpieces with their eyes closed. One such example is Xian Duan, an incredibly talented Chinese artist who creates detailed scenes and portraits on the inside of tiny bottles, using a specially-designed tool. It's hard for an artistically-challenged person like myself to even imagine the level of concentration and patience this sort of work requires, but it's definitely the kind of skill that leaves one in awe. Though is not a lot of information about Xiang Duan online, she has an active Instagram account where one can check out most of her incredible artworks.

Let us make public parks parthenium-free

Sir,

Nowadays we see a lot of people going to public parks for their morning walks and jogging to maintain their health.

This is really appreciable. While doing so they have a firm expectation that all these public parks should be maintained by the local bodies, that is City Corporations, Town Panchayats etc.

People give good cooperation in keeping these places clean by not throwing plastics/papers/cigarette butts and not taking their pet animals into these public parks. But this is not sufficient. We cannot expect that the local authorities should do everything for these public parks, that is watering the plants; cleaning and weeding. Parthenium plants have grown in almost all parks. This cannot be eradicated only by local authorities. Public/citizens should also involve in this.

In my opinion if every walker/jogger or park visitor decides to pluck at least one or two parthenium plants per day, we can dream of parthenium-free public parks in the near future.

Many people may take an excuse that these parthenium plants are allergic to them. But if one or two parthenium plants are plucked in a day, one cannot be a prey for allergy, I feel.

Centre sanctions Rs. 25 crore for Critical Care Centre at Madikeri
Funds released from Pradhan Mantri Ayushman Bharat Health Infrastructure Mission

Madikeri, June 9 (PS&SSM)- The long-pending and legitimate demand of the people of Kodagu for a Critical Care Centre comprising advanced facilities for ailments like heart and kidney and emergencies will soon become a reality as the Centre has released Rs. 25 crore to set up a new Critical Care Centre (CCC) at Madikeri under the Pradhan Mantri Ayushman Bharat Health Infrastructure (PMABHI) Mission.

The aim of PMABHI is to strengthen the critical healthcare network from village to block to the district to the regional and national level in the next 4-5 years. It will create elaborate facilities for diagnostics and treatment and there will be facilities for the early detection of diseases. Facilities like free medical consultation, free tests and free medicine will be available in these centres.

According to the guidelines released from the Centre, a 50-bed CCC will be set up in Kodagu as the total population in the district is within 5 to 20 lakh people. The building will be built in a 4,250 sq.ft area with an estimated cost of Rs. 16.63 crore. In all, Rs. 23.75 crore is the estimated expenditure for the building construction, other medical equipment and basic facilities.

District Health Committee supervision

The CCC will work as an important internal section wing of Kodagu District Hospital and Kodagu Institute of Medical Sciences which will be under the supervision of the District Health Committee. State Health Department Secretary, Additional Secretary and other officers will hold the responsibilities for the construction and functioning of all the CCCs which will be set up in different parts of the State.

The State Government must take up decisions with respect to the proposed land sanction for building construction and get a letter of consent from the regulatory agencies. Based on the population in the districts, 50, 75 or 100-bed CCC will be set up near the existing District Hospital and Medical College.

The State Government has to submit a detailed extended project list to the Central Government to get the blueprint of the CCC building and other basic facilities.

The project will be implemented by the Health Department in the State-level and National Health Mission (NHM) at the National-level. There are about 5 to 20 lakh people in over 274 districts across the country and all those districts will get 50-bed CCCs.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, about the new CCC at Madikeri, MLA M.P. Appachu Ranjan said that a memorandum was submitted to the Prime Minister and Union Health Minister requesting grants to set up Super Speciality Hospital in Kodagu as the people had to either go to Mangaluru or Mysuru to get critical care facilities and these places are more than 100 kilometres away.

"In this regard, MP Pratap Simha had drawn the attention of both Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya and after this, Rs. 25 crore has been sanctioned under the Pradhan Mantri Ayushman Bharat Health Infrastructure Mission to open a Critical Care Centre in Madikeri," he said and thanked the PM, Union and State Health Ministers and MP Pratap Simha.

Land and building

Stating that land has already been earmarked to construct a new CCC building, Appachu Ranjan said that about 94-cent area is available at the Public Works Department (PWD) building located near General K. S. Thimayya Circle in Madikeri.

"The new Critical Care Centre can be built after demolishing the existing PWD building while a new place will be allotted to construct a new PWD building. A discussion related to this has already been done with the State PWD Minister where he has agreed for the same," the MLA added.

Top officials and architects will visit the place soon to inspect the place and seek land alienation and allotment and the construction works will begin soon after the inspection. The building will have four floors with a parking lot on the ground floor and the remaining three floors will be used for hospital purposes.

The CCC will be useful to those who have heart and kidney-related issues. A request has been raised to sanction grants of Rs. 200 crore to build the hospital. If these grants are sanctioned, then there is no need for people to depend on such Super Speciality Hospitals in Mysuru or Mangaluru, the MLA added.

Nitin Gadkari & family visit Mysore Palace, Silk Factory

Union Minister Nitin Gadkari along with his wife Kanchan Gadkari, son Sarang Gadkari and other family members visited the Mysore Palace yesterday. Release funds for Road Under Bridge near Crawford Hall level crossing

MP Pratap Simha meets Union Minister Nitin Gadkari with a slew of proposals

Mysuru, June 9 (BCT)- Union Minister for Road Transport & Highways Nitin Gadkari's visit to Mysuru gave an opportunity for Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha to press for several infrastructure projects for which he has already submitted many memorandums. The Minister responded to the MP's request positively.

Among the projects, the one which is important to Mysuru city is a Road Under Bridge at the level crossing near the Kukkarahalli Lake. The estimated cost of the project is Rs. 40 crore. Road Under Bridge (RUB) at the Level-Crossing of Mysuru-Nanjangud section Railway track running behind Crawford Hall and close to Kukkarahalli Lake will greatly benefit the people of Mysuru, the MP told the Minister.

Once the RUB is completed, it will be a boon for the motorists, who now have to wait a long time at the Level-Crossing Gate. Pratap Simha urged the Minister to execute the project immediately as motorists were forced to wait as most trains running between Mysuru-Nanjangud-Chamarajanagar used to stop on the stretch of the track running behind Crawford Hall, due to delayed clearance at the City Railway Station.

Widen Periyapatna Road

The MP also sought funds to improve or widen the Periyapatna Road (National Highway 275) at Koppa village and Periyapatna town limits for the smooth passage of traffic on the Highway. The narrow stretches are causing traffic bottlenecks and the whole purpose of the National Highway is defeated if the road is not widened, he said.

The total estimate of the project is Rs. 50 crore and it entails improvement or widening of the roads — km 132.314 to 134.000, km 149.500 to 153.550 and km 153.850 to 154.500 in Koppa village limits and Periyapatna town limits respectively, the MP told the Minister.

23-km Mysuru-Kadakola six-lane road

The MP also urged the Minister to convert the four-lane 23-km Mysuru-Kadakola road to a six-lane Highway. The Mysuru-Nanjangud belt has seen tremendous development over the years and there is a need to provide better connectivity as there is more scope for economic development.

In his letter, the MP has stated that the Mysuru-Nanjangud-Thandavapura stretch has been developed into an industrial hub with many industries including Asian Paints and TVS setting up factories there. Also, there is a 100-acre Women Entrepreneurs Park at Thandya near Kadakola.

In addition, work on Inland Container Depot/ Multi-Modal Logistic Park for Railways at Kadakola by Container Corporation of India is coming up on 61 acres of land, boosting transportation and industrial growth.

This apart, the Mysore Airport located at Mandakalli on MP Pratap Simha interacting with Union Minister for Road Transport & Highways Nitin Gadkari at Radisson Blu Plaza Hotel in city yesterday.

National Highway 766 has seen good growth with over seven daily flights and plans are being worked out to make it an international airport with an expanded runway and other features.

Also, the industrial, commercial and tourism vehicles coming to Mysuru and moving towards Ooty and Kozhikode have necessitated the widening of the National Highway to a six-lane one, the MP noted.

Yedegowdanahalli to Bilikere

The MP urged the Union Minister to convert the existing road into a four-lane stretch from Yedegowdanahalli to Bilikere for the smooth travel of hundreds of people who commute between Mysuru and Hassan.

While the existing road from Hassan to Yedegowdanahalli near Holenarasipura has a four-lane stretch, there on it is a two-lane stretch till K.R. Nagar Road and Mysuru-Madikeri Road junction near Bilikere where the highway again has a four-lane stretch, the MP pointed out.

He urged the Minister to modify the existing road to convert it into a four-lane stretch from Yedegowdanahalli to Bilikere for ease of travel and uniformity of roads. "The existing road is not in conformity with the traffic density and if converted to a four-lane stretch, would provide better connectivity to places of tourist importance besides ensuring safety," he said.

Channarayapatna to Makutta

Pratap Simha also appealed to the Minister to upgrade the State Highway connecting Channarayapatna in Hassan district and Makutta on the Karnataka-Kerala border to a National Highway (NH). The road passes through Channarayapatna, Holenarasipura, Arkalgud, Shanivarsanthe, Kodlipet, Somwarpet, Madikeri and Virajpet to reach Makutta via Perumbadi check post to reach Kannur in Kerala. The NH will extend up to 183 kilometres and Rs. 1,600 crore funding is necessary to upgrade the existing road. He said the road provides connectivity to various tourist destinations including Madikeri, Talacauvery and Bhagamandala. Development of the highway would also ease the connectivity to Kannur International Airport from Kodagu and Hassan districts.

The MP said that the alignment plan was submitted in 2018 and pointed that the movement of freight from Kodagu to other regions was affected which had affected the economy of Kodagu.

Star of Mysore caught up with Dr. Bopanna, who was on a short visit to Mysuru and spoke to him about his role in AAA, Mysuru memories and his family. Excerpts:

By B.C. Thimmaiah

Star of Mysore (SOM): You have a three-year term and how do you propose to take forward the programmes of American Academy of Audiology (AAA)?

Dr. Bopanna Ballachanda: The American Academy of Audiology is the world's largest professional organisation of, by and for audiologists. It is committed to advancing the science, practice and accessibility of hearing and balanced healthcare for our patients.

I am humbled and honoured to be elected by the members as the President-Elect and later the President of AAA. My role is to understand the issues and address them when I take charge. These opportunities and challenges vary from year to year. However, the Academy has set goals and agenda to further the profession and help audiologists achieve their highest potential.

SOM: You are the first Indian-American to occupy the top post of AAA. This is no mean feat and you studied at AIISH Mysuru. Do you have any fond memories of Mysuru?

Dr. Bopanna Ballachanda: I do have a lot of fond memories of Mysuru. Back then Mysuru was a quaint town with excellent opportunities for scholarly work, today too I hope it's the same. I still cherish my time in Mysuru when I used to meet friends at the corner of crossroads (Somberi Katte) and talk for hours. I also fondly remember the joy I felt riding my bicycle to the Institute from home. So Mysuru and my time in Mysuru is very much in my thoughts.

SOM: Audiology is a relatively lesser-known profession or a field of expertise in India. Do you think there is a lack of awareness? If so, what should be done to popularise it?

Dr. Bopanna Ballachanda: You are absolutely correct. Audiology is lesser known. However, the field of audiology has been in existence in India for a long time. Based on my research, I see an apathy for hearing loss and corrective measures to overcome communication problems. Hearing loss and its impact are not well-acknowledged and hearing loss and its impact on humans need to be made aware.

As we know that the two major inputs to the brain are vision and hearing. We are quick to correct vision problems but are reluctant or hesitant to correct or use hearing aids. Recent research has clearly shown that an untreated hearing loss has many impacts on communication, psychological well-being, and most of all deterioration in mental functions. Hearing loss does not only affect hearing but has broader consequences like memory loss etc. I don't know the reasons why people cancel or postpone treatments. Being out of India, I have limited knowledge of the apathy or lack of motivation of the general public to deal with hearing problems.

SOM: AIISH is doing wonderful work in audiology and the institute has grown in leaps and bounds. Your comments on this.

Dr. Bopanna Ballachanda: AIISH is a great institute. I had the opportunity to visit the institute a few days back and I was stunned by the clinical facilities, research work, and innovative projects. I was humbled by the warm welcome extended by the Director, Dr. M. Pushpavathi. The Institute that I remember has changed a lot, and changed for the better. I am so proud to say that I graduated from this premier institution.

SOM: You are from Kodagu, a small district, how did you get to where you are now professionally?

Dr. Bopanna Ballachanda: Like many Indians in the 80s, I stepped foot in the USA with a dream. I was born to late Pulianda Kamakshi and late Ballachanda Belliappa. My dream began when I graduated with a B.Sc. degree from AIISH and a love for Wild West through John Wayne movies. On the way to the Wild West, I did a two-year stint as a specialist of Speech and Hearing at the Al Sabah Hospital in Kuwait, finally ending up at the University of Texas, Dallas, where I earned a Ph.D in Auditory Neuroscience, the study of hearing and the brain which at that time had not been explored very much.

SOM: Tell us about your initial days in the US.

Dr. Bopanna Ballachanda: I was recruited by Purdue University, Indiana, as an up-and-coming academician. While at Purdue I pioneered clinical procedures for practising audiologists, authored two books that are used as educational material in many audiology programmes and many professional/ scientific articles that received acclaim in the hearing industry.

I returned to India after 10 years in the USA in 1990 and got married to Kambeyanda Naina Muthappa and then I moved to the University of New Mexico as an Associate Professor of Audiology.

SOM: Tell us how you got involved with American Academy of Audiology and the business side of audiology?

Dr. Bopanna Ballachanda: During my tenure at the University of New Mexico, I became actively involved with the American Academy of Audiology. I was the first foreign-born audiologist in the USA, the first Indian to be elected to the Board of Directors of the AAA, and served as President of the New Mexico Speech-Hearing Association and on the Senate of the University of New Mexico.

After seven more years of teaching at the University of New Mexico, I gave up a guaranteed job to venture into yet another phase in my life — clinical practice. With the help of my wife, who is a Chartered Accountant and entrepreneur, I opened my first clinic in July of 2003 in Santa Fe, New Mexico. The first year was a challenge, but after that, by God's grace, I've never had to look back. Another seven years later I had the opportunity to purchase a group of clinics in Arizona and Texas. My wife says seven is my magic number. I had 16 clinics in New Mexico, Arizona and Texas. My wife and I owned and ran the clinics together.

SOM: Tell us about your family and do you feel you achieved your American dream?

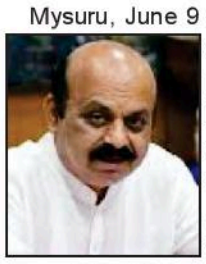
Dr. Bopanna Ballachanda: I have a wonderful son and a daughter, Tanek Ballachanda and Jyothi Ballachanda. Tanek is a mechanical engineer working for a space programme in Seattle, Washington State while Jyothi is studying to become a pastry chef.

Have I achieved my American dream? Life is a journey of fascinating dreams that evolve, I don't think I'm even halfway there. It's been a lot of hard work, and it was never about the money, but about pushing myself beyond. In that sense, I think I have a sense of fulfilment.

Industrial township for Mysuru, assures CM

'Mysuru has the most talented people and intellectual leaders after Bengaluru'

Mysuru, June 9 (MTY&BCT)- Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai has announced the formation of industrial townships in four cities of Karnataka that are growing at a fast pace including Mysuru. The others are Mangaluru, Hubballi-Dharwad, Kalaburagi and Belagavi.



Bommai

He was speaking to the party workers and supporters ahead of the elections to the Legislative Council from the South Graduates' Constituency organised at the Rajendra Bhavan. He sought support for BJP candidate M.V. Ravishankar who came from the lowest rung of the party.

Mysuru is growing in leaps and bounds and after Bengaluru, this is the second city that is growing very fast and recognising this, the State Government has started the 'Beyond Bengaluru' initiative. An industrial township will further boost the planned growth of Mysuru so that it can complement Bengaluru in every other way, he added.

Bommai said that Mysuru is the city with the most talented people and intellectual leaders after Bengaluru. "Mysuru has its own glorious history. We should remember Kings of Mysuru like Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar who laid a strong foundation for modern Karnataka. Of the 500 Fortune-500 companies about 400 have their presence in Karnataka. Bengaluru is home to about 400 global level R&D centres," he stated.

He said the Wadiyars were visionaries and progressive in their views which helped in the development of Mysuru. "Even during tours abroad like the recent one to Davos in Switzerland, I point out the rapid strides made by Karnataka in industrialisation and underline that it was made possible because of the role played by Mysuru," the CM revealed.

"It all started from Mysuru. The contribution of Mysuru and the Kings of Mysuru take a prominent place when we write the history of Karnataka. A major initiative has been taken to spread development beyond Bengaluru," the CM added.

Mysuru, Mangaluru, Hubballi-Dharwad, Kalaburagi and Belagavi have been identified as the ideal tier 2 cities to implement it, Bommai said.

"Funds have been provided in the budget for expansion of Mysore Airport and Government orders have been issued to take up the works. Projects have been formulated to attract international level institutions, major industries and academic institutions to Mysuru. An industrial township would also be developed in Mysuru," he said.

Skills development has been given major thrust in this regard with about 1.50 lakh youth getting trained in modern vocations and technology. About 6 crore youth in the country have turned into entrepreneurs through the MUDRA loans to encourage self-employment, Bommai said.

Karnataka is the first State to implement the National Education Policy, Bommai said. It enables students to attain more than one graduate degree in 3 years. "We are preparing Karnataka for the 21st century with a mission of building New Karnataka to build New India," Bommai said. There is a focus on women and child development as well, he added.

Cow electrocuted

Owner suffers electric shock during rescue attempt

Mysuru, June 9 (GA&KS)- A cow was electrocuted while its owner suffered electric shock when he tried to rescue his cow at Sathagalli village yesterday evening.

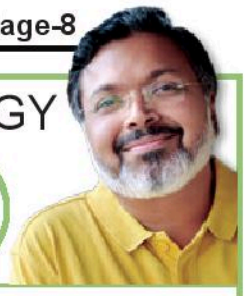
DECODING MYTHOLOGY



Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Dakshina, daan & bhiksha

Giving in Hindu society can be categorised in three ways: dakshina, bhiksha and daan. Dakshina is repayment. Bhiksha is alms. Daan is charity. But meanings are often confusing, as people use the same term differently in different contexts.

In Vedic times, poets were given daan. And poets would compose 'daan-stuti' in honour of the donor. This was more repayment than charity. Dakshina rather than daan. Go-daan was actually bhiksha, done to earn spiritual merit, especially by kings seeking legitimisation of kingship, and surviving relatives who wished to ensure a better future life for the dead.

Dakshina is basically repayment for goods and services received. Unlike goods, which are tangible, services are intangible and so evaluating their worth is always a problem. In the old days, in feudal societies, the idea of demanding payment for services was restricted to Brahmins who performed rituals, built and maintained temples, and even helped kings set up villages and collect taxes. When Harischandra disturbs Vishwamitra's yagna, he makes amends by offering his kingdom. So that this gift is not seen as daan, or charity, Vishwamitra asks the king to give him an additional 'dakshina' for the service of cleansing him of the crime of interrupting a yagna.

In bhiksha, the receiver is in debt. So he repays in intangible ways — granting blessings or karmic merit to the giver. This was popularised in monastic orders such as Buddhism and Jainism. Even today, in Buddhist countries, people line up on the street to offer food to the monks who travel with begging bowls. This ritual earns good karma for the donor. Young Brahmin students would also beg for food and offer blessings to those who fed them. In Hindu temples, pilgrims give money to temples and priests and to beggars in the neighbourhood. They call it daan, but they seek spiritual merit in exchange, making it bhiksha.

In daan, the giver writes off the loan. The receiver is under no obligation. Hence, doing daan was considered greater than giving dakshina and bhiksha.

In the Puranas, we keep hearing stories of Karna, who is called daanveer, and we always wonder why he has a tragic life despite being so charitable. This is because we confuse bhiksha with daan; in daan, nothing is expected in return. So Karna does not get any benefit despite being charitable. When he donates his armour to Indra, he is left vulnerable. He does not earn merit; he earns nothing. To do daan is to expect nothing in return. To be truly detached from possessions and expectations.

Bali, king of three worlds, once declared that he would satisfy all the needs of everyone who comes to him. So, Vishnu came to him as a child and asked for three paces of land. As soon as Bali gave it to him, Vishnu grew in size and turned into a giant who in two wide steps claimed Bali's three worlds, and then asked Bali where he should place his foot for the third step. Bali told Vishnu to put it on his head thus accepting Vishnu as his teacher.

Vishnu's lesson to Bali was this: In the world, resources or food are limited, but not hunger, which is why all living organisms compete for food. There is just enough, or barely enough. And many plants and animals die as they do not find enough food. To say one can satisfy everyone's hunger is foolish. For one can never gauge the extent of a man's hunger, just as Bali could not gauge the extent of Vishnu's 'pace'. The child turned into a giant and in two paces consumed all that Bali had to offer. No one can satisfy another's hunger. So the donor has to be careful: he will end up being consumed and destroyed by the receiver.

Health Department honours staff involved in prevention and eradication of Malaria

Mysuru, June 9 (MTY&TRR) The retired and present employees of Health Department, who have worked during the past 30 years towards the prevention and eradication of the once dreaded Malaria disease, were felicitated by the Department at a function held on Wednesday.

The programme to felicitate 10 past and present personnel of the Health Department, organised by the District Vector-Borne Diseases Control Office, was held at the premises of District Health and Family Welfare Department office premises at Nazarbad in city as part of 'Anti Malaria Month' being observed by the Department.

Retired officials Jayapal, Javari, N. Kempananjegowda, A. Thimmannachari, Dhanalakshmi, M. Srinivas, Wasim Ashwak, Nanjundaswamy, Narayana and L. Mahadeva (Gunny) were felicitated by the senior officials of the Department who praised their services and hoped their work will inspire other employees of the Department.

Dr. S. Chidambara, District Vector-Borne Diseases Control Officer, who spoke on the occasion, said that every year, the month of June is observed as 'Anti Malaria Month' and programmes are being organised from June 1 to 30 to create awareness about Malaria disease as the month of June is associated with Monsoon and rainy season.

"During this season, the Plasmodium species which spread Malaria are found at places where water is collected and also during this season the breeding of Anopheles mosquito, whose bite causes Malaria, takes place. Everyone needs to be aware of this and the Department organises awareness programmes during the entire month of June. Fever is the main indication of Malaria and people, apart from getting protection from Malaria, should immediately go for medical check-up to rule out Malaria, once they have fever," he advised.

Dr. Udaykumar, Joint Director, Department of Health and Family Welfare, who spoke on the occasion, opined that 2-3 Mosquitoes are enough to spread Malaria. "They lay eggs in stagnant water and reproduce, because of which there is a possibility of Malaria spreading rapidly. When I was working at Hunsur in 2017-18, Malaria was reported and I detected Plasmodia Virus in those who were suffering from fever," he added.

He further said that we should not become complacent just because there are no Malaria cases for the last 5 years and create awareness among people about the disease and eradicate Malaria. "We should start the 'Prevention of Malaria' campaign with the slogan 'Zero Malaria Starts from Me' and take steps to prevent the spread of the disease. We must also remember the slogan 'Fight the Bite' and escape from Mosquito bite. There are many methods to kill Mosquitoes. Already, water sumps have been constructed at all Health centres to rear fish which feed on larva. This method also control the reproduction of Mosquitoes," he opined.

"We need to ensure that Mysuru district is freed from Malaria by 2025. Neighbouring districts should also become Malaria free and then we should commit ourselves to free the entire Mysuru division from Malaria. The Union Government has formulated many programmes to make India Malaria free by 2025 and the cooperation of the public and Department officials are important to achieve this landmark. Already, 9 nations are declared as Malaria free in the world and Sri Lanka is one among them. If, water is collected in front of a house, neighbours will file a case in Sri Lanka and they will be punished with imprisonment for 2 years where awareness programmes will be held by the Health Department," he concluded.

Mysuru District Health Officer (DHO) Dr. K.H. Prasad, who too spoke on the occasion, said that more Malaria cases were reported from the borders of Mandya districts like Bluff, Shimsha; K.R. Nagar-K.R. Pet border Bherya 15 years ago. Since the last 5 years, the cases have come to zero due to the various steps taken by the Department, he opined and appreciated the efforts of the Department employees in this connection.

District Surveillance Officer Dr. Shivaprakash, Reproductive and Child Health Officer (RCHO) Dr. Jayant, TB Control Officer Dr. Siraj Ahmed, Cholera Control Officer Dr. Umesh, Taluk Health Officer Dr. Rajeshwari and others were present on the occasion.

Couple sells house pledged with a bank after creating fake documents

Mysuru, June 9- Kuvempunagar Police have registered a case against a couple for selling a house, which has been pledged in a bank, by allegedly creating fake documents.

The couple against whom the case has been registered are Harish and Jyothi Harish, residents of Kuvempunagar in city.

They had pledged their house constructed at Customs and Central Excise Employees House Building Association Layout in Koppalur, J.P. Nagar, for Rs. 51.25 lakh at National Co-Operative Bank in Kuvempunagar and later created fake documents of the house and sold it, according to the complaint lodged by Bank Manager B.L. Prasad with Kuvempunagar Police.

The complaint further states that the couple on Dec. 27, 2016 had pledged the house documents for Rs. 40 lakh to purchase a BMW car during which they had submitted the original documents of the house to the Bank and the loan document was registered at the Mysuru South Sub-Registrar's Office.

On Apr. 7, 2018, the couple again obtained Rs. 1 lakh loan and had again obtained a loan of Rs. 10.25 lakh on Apr. 16, 2019, thus taking a total loan of Rs. 51.25 lakh against the same property. The couple, after paying the loan instalment of Rs. 1.04 lakh for a few months, stopped paying the loan instalment, the complaint further stated.

When the couple did not respond to bank notices, the bank authorities contacted RTO authorities and enquired about the BMW car during which they came to know that the car was hypothecated to Karnataka Bank at Chamundipuram.

Shocked on learning about it, the Bank authorities took a closer look at the house documents including the Encumbrance Certificate (EC) and came to know that the house has already been pledged with Rajarajeshwarinagar Branch of Syndicate Bank and also came to know that the house has been sold to one Raghavendra on Feb. 5, 2020.

The Bank authorities also came to know that the couple instead of producing the car loan cheque for Rs. 40 lakh to Navneet Motors in Bengaluru, had opened a bank account in Veerashaiva Credit Co-operative Society under a fake name and had en-cashed the cheque, the complaint from B.N. Prasad stated.

Kuvempunagar Police, who have registered a case under IPC Section 34, 420, 465, 468 and 417, are investigating.

WORD OF THE DAY

Behest

Pronunciation: bih-HEST.
Meaning: A behest is an authoritative order or an urgent prompting.
Origin: Behest is an ancient word: it is almost a thousand years old. It was formed from the prefix be- and the verb hātan ("to command" or "to promise"), and its Old English ancestor was used exclusively in the sense of "promise," a now-obsolete meaning that continued on in Middle English especially in the phrase "the land of behest." The "command" meaning of behest is also ancient but it's still in good use, typically referring to an authoritative order. Behest is now also used with a less weighty meaning; it can refer to an urgent prompting, as in "a repeat performance at the behest of the troupe's fans."
Example: "Earmarks were banned on Capitol Hill 11 years ago at the behest of House Republicans and then-President Obama in response to scandals surrounding how lawmakers were using them." — Jennifer Haberkorn

THE ODD WORD

Baccate

Having berries; berry-like.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Dog days of summer

Meaning: The phrase 'Dog days of summer' is used to talk about hot, sultry days.
Origin: The expression 'Dog days of summer' is celestial in origin. The term indicates a period between July 3 and Aug. 11 when the Dog Star, Sirius, rises at the same time or near the same time as the sun in the Northern hemisphere.
Example: "Popsicles are great for staying cool during the dog days of summer."

QUOTE BOX

Summer bachelors like summer breezes, are never as cool as they pretend to be. —Nora Ephron
